Comments/Historical Information

Chapter 779, Statutes of 1970 enacted the California Environmental Protection Program and created the California Environmental Protection Program Fund

Chapter 1105, Statutes of 1979 changed the name of this fund from the California Environmental Protection Program Fund to the California Environmental License Plate Fund.

Under former law the Secretaries of the Resources and Transportation Agencies were responsible for the administration of the California Environmental Protection Program. Chapter 1105, Statutes of 1979 removes the Secretary for Business and Transportation from the administration and requires the Secretary for Resources to administer the program.
